Quick Start Guide

Read the book WITH your child. You read the “regular” text, and he/she reads the big, red words, sort of like reading the different parts in a play.

Help your child sound out the words as needed.

Read the book several times. This helps develop the eye muscles and left-to-right reading patterns that are necessary for reading.

Don't rush it. Body builders don't train in a day – neither does a child.

If your child is having difficulty, he/she might need more practice with simple short vowel words. Read or re-read the Progressive Phonics Beginner Books a few times, and then try this book again.

And most important of all, HAVE FUN!

Words taught in this book:

ship shop shut

bath math than that the them then thin

this with

chat chin chip chop

(Pages like this are read TO the child) 3

Let's learn about the shhh sound.
Can you say, "shhh"?

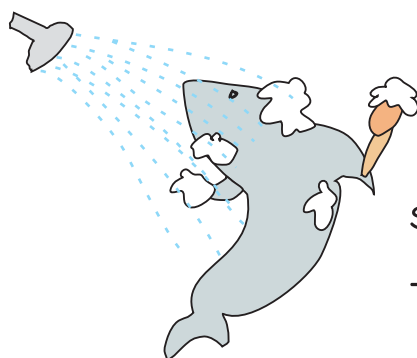

We have lots of words that make
this sound:

sheep in shorts

shiny
shoe

shark in the shower

sh

We don't have a letter in the alphabet for the "sh" sound, so we have different ways of writing it.

The spelling we use most often is

sh

You can't actually hear an "s" or an "h," but that is how we write it.

Say after me....

show me
a ship at the shop

(If you need more words, try: shadow, shake, share, shave, she, shell, shin, shop, shoulder, shuffle and shy.)

sh

sh be quiet,

shut the door,

sh don't say a peep.

sh be quiet,

shut your eyes –

it's time to go to sleep.

sh _____

Here we are at the ice cream shop. The shop is open, the shop is nice, but we can't go in because we are mice. They say the shop is just for people, but in the shop are lots of "sheeple."

sh _____

I went to the shop to buy a ship, so that I could learn to sail. But the shop was shut, and they had no ship, so I ordered one by mail.

Practice.....

(On “practice pages,” kids read a variety of words he/she should know by now,)

If I shut my eyes,

how can I see you?

If I shut my nose,

how can I smell you?

And if I shut my mouth, how can I tell you that you smell?

Practice.....

I have a big, red ship,
and I am the captain. I have a big, red ship, and nothing bad can happen.

Oh, no! My big, red ship is in a lot of trouble.

I cannot find my ship –
it is lost in a bubble.

Now let's learn about the "th"
sound. Can you say, "th"?

We have lots of words that
make this sound —

think a thought

thanks

thumb

th

We don't have a letter in the alphabet for the "th" sound, so we write it with a "t" and an "h."

th

You can't actually hear a "t" or an "h," but that is how we write the "th" sound.

Say after me...

I think he has three teeth

th

My cat is made of tin.

That's why he is so thin.

My thin, tin cat

will never be fat.

He will always be as

thin as a pin.

Tin is a kind of metal.

Voice is a sound that you make in your throat. Put your hand on your throat and say, "cat sat on mat." Can you feel the voice in your throat?

th

But not all sounds use your voice. Put your hand on your throat and say “sssss” like a snake. See? You don’t use your voice to make that sound — you make the sound by pushing air over your tongue.

There are two ways that we pronounce the "th" sound.

With our voice turned ON: this, that, those, the and them.

With our voice turned OFF: think, thin, thirty, Thursday, tooth and thumb.

th

We are now going to practice the two ways to pronounce "th."

Turn ON your voice for the "th" in the big, pink words, and turn OFF your voice for the "th" in the big, blue words.

this, that,
then, than,
them, the

thin, bath,
math, with

th

The word "the" sounds like "thuh"

The sun is shining
in the sky – the moon is shining too.

The sun is very yellow, and the moon is a little bit blue.

th _____

That hat is silly;
that hat makes me
laugh. You always wear that silly hat when you're in that silly bath.

th

The cat thought
that he was too thin,
so he ate his dinner and the bowl that it was
in. Then he ate a cake,
and then he ate a steak.
Then he went to bed
with a tummy ache.

th

I have a hundred worms.

I keep them in a box.

My sister doesn't like them,

but me, I like them lots.

I feed them cabbage, and

I feed them fruit.

And if you aren't nice,

I'll put this one in your boot.

th

If I had teeth, then I would brush them. And if I had hands, then I would wash them.

But I am a cup, and
as you can see, first
you take a drink, and then you wash me.

th

I am smaller than a house and smaller than a truck.

I am smaller than a car and smaller than a duck.

I am so very, very small you need a telescope
to see my face at all.

th

This flower is red, and that one is blue. And that tree over there is green like me and you. And
And if we do not live in outer space, then why do we have three eyes on our face?

th

The monster in the closet is bigger than a bear. He wants to chew my toes, and then he wants to chew my hair. There are monsters on the ceiling, monsters on the bed. Why do people tell me they are all inside my head?

th

The dog in the bath is very good at math. He is better at math than I am.
He counts with his toes all the bubbles on his nose, and then he pops them, one, two, bang!

th

I want this milk with chocolate. And I want that steak with cake.

I want sugar with my lunch and honey with my tea

because everything I eat

must be as sweet as me.

Practice.....

This is my dog, and that is my cat. One is thin, and one is fat.
The cat that is fat is wearing a hat. The dog that is thin has polka dot skin.

Now let's learn about the "ch"
sound. Can you say, "ch"?

We have lots of words that
make this sound —

chase that chicken

cherry

the chimpanzee
cheated at checkers

(If you need more words, try: child, chin, chalk, chase, chimney, chess, champion and chuckle.)

ch

We don't have a letter in the alphabet for the "ch" sound, so we write it with a "c" and an "h" —

ch

You can't actually hear a "c" or an "h," but that is how we write the "ch" sound.

Say after me....

Charles
chooses to chew a chunk
of cheese.

ch

What do you say when you chat with a cat?

Do you chat about kittens or chat about cows?

Do you chat like a human,
or do you say, "Meeooww"?

ch

I want a potato chip.

I want a chip to dip.

They go so well together,
a chip and a dip, and I like nothing better than chip dip on my lip.

Practice.....

That cat has a
red dot on his chin.
The dot is as thin
as a tiny little pin,
but the dot is so
bright you can see
it at night.

Practice.....

I would rather be a
dog than a cat.
But I would rather be a cat than a rat.
But being a kid
is better than them
all – I will always be a kid, even when I am tall.

Practice.....

To chop up food for hungry poodles, first you chop a lot of noodles. Then you chop a potato chip and serve the chip with doggy dip.

this, that, these, those, them, they, their.

Misc:

hen, than, though, although,
there, thus.

When "th" is followed by silent "e" (also when replacing the silent "e" with "ing"):

bathe/bathing, breathe/breathing,
clothe/clothing, teethe/teething. etc.

When "th" is followed by "er":

brother, mother, father, other,
another, weather, together,
bother, neither, either, farther,
feather, gather, rather, smoother,
whether, etc.
